

July 19, 2016

2016: Kobe Project theme-based research high achiever presentation

Kobe Project theme-based research high achiever presentation was held at Integrated Research Center of Kobe University.

- Presentation① “How the environment will effect the colors of petals”
- Presentation② “Low compressive wood chip concretes may change the composition of building materials to include unused wooden materials ”
- Presentation③ “Universalistic grass-roots movements – a comparison between the 19th century and today”
- Presentation④ “How to deal with pests – How we can grow crops without using agricultural chemicals, finding a way by testing with slug”
- Presentation⑤ “Baseball Girls- how did they effect the increase of the numbers of visitors to the baseball stadium and the city?”
- Presentation⑥ “Difference between each detergent manufacturers commercials- how can their product deal with oil stains?
What is the concentration of the product and its capacity?”
- Presentation⑦ “How political education can increase the voting rate of young people- effects of the informational stimulus through model elections”

Feedback: Professor Shin'ichiro Ishikawa (Professor, Graduate School of Intercultural Studies, Kobe University Faculty of Intercultural Studies, Kobe University)

Associate Professor Hajimu Hayashi (Associate Professor, Graduate School of Human Development and Environment, Department of Human Development, Kobe University)

Lecture Presentation: Professor Atsushi Tago(Professor, Graduate School of Law, Division of Political Science, Kobe University)

Theme: “Individual and International Society”

Poster Presentation:

- Poster① “How to make a skin lotion which will hydrate the skin for a long time-Can sticky natto maintain the moisture level?- ”
- Poster② “Research of the shape and flying distance of A4 sized paper origami airplane”
- Poster③ “The details of the long flying paper airplane and how to apply to real airplanes”
- Poster④ “Testing the fish tail shape to analyze energy efficiency”
- Poster⑤ “How to express the mind in Classic Ballet-Comparing 7 variations-”
- Poster⑥ “Using Bicycles to revitalize the local area-The case of Shimanami Kaido”

Integrated Research Center of Kobe University

Speech from the Principal

Presentation 1.

Presentation 2

Presentation 3

Feedback from Hayashi-sensei.